FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Hanover Logistics' Trucking Division, R.H. Crawford's Drivers Are Top Notch
Hanover, PA—January 6, 2020—

2019 was another landmark year for Hanover Logistics' growing trucking division, R.H. Crawford as they held their own at state wide and national truck driving competitions. Among the trucking industry giants, UPS, Fed Ex, Prime, Walmart, R.H. Crawford's team proved to be tough competition coming out of the 2019 Pennsylvania Truck Championships with a 2nd in the 4-Axel (John Burns) and 1st in the Tanker division (Brian Smeltzer) this past June. The team then headed to Pittsburgh to compete at the National Truck Driving Championship and came home with a 6th place in the Tanker division thanks to R.H. Crawford's Brian Smeltzer. Brian was also named Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association's Safety Management Council's Driver of The Year in 2018. "We are honored to have a great team at Hanover Logistics' and our drivers at R.H. Crawford are out on the road, doing a great job representing the company and our emphasis on driving innovation by servicing our clients in the most safe and efficient way possible" says Kurt Dietrich, Owner and President. "We are always seeking excellent drivers to join our budding team of top drivers as company continues to expand."
